Reform of Medicare and Medicaid Requires Overall Health Care Reform

“[F]ederal health spending trends should not be viewed in isolation from the health care system as a whole.... Rather, in order to address the long-term fiscal challenge, it will be necessary to find approaches that deal with health care cost growth in the overall health care system.”

General David Walker
Testimony before House Budget Committee
February 2005

Why We Need to Move Toward Universal Health Coverage

“[T]he problems of uninsurance and expensive or ineffective care are interrelated.... [I]t is impossible to address fully the problems of affordability and effectiveness without covering everyone. Much of the health care the uninsured do get is costly and inefficient, with the costs passed to others. Insuring everyone would not just eliminate these uncompensated cost shifts, it would also enable the health system to function better by expanding risk pooling and reducing the fragmentation of financing.”

the Executive Committee, Citigroup Inc. and Jason Furman, Director, The Hamilton Project
July, 2007

Options for Achieving Universal Health Coverage

- Single-payer system like “Medicare for All”
- Employer mandates combined with individual mandates to purchase private coverage
- Individual mandates alone
